shortowner enlage. In the solution of the cheap fodder crop problem for the Alberta farmer. It is a reliable crop, that not only has a heavier yield than any other crop, but in the western Canada, but in actual feed tests has proved to be superior to any other ensilage. It is the subject of the address delivered by Geo. H. Hutton, president of the Western Livestock Raisers' Association, at the annual conference of the C.P.R., delivered

Purebred Bulls—Mr. Brown briefly outlined the work of his club during the raising of the cattle. He pointed out that he was striving to get a good purebred bull in every district of Alberta, where they held no fair during the winter. He said that in the past, too many farmers had been misled by pedigrees, and in his mind the purebred of inferior breeding was one of the "purebred scrub" and the worst kind of a scrub for any farmer to have.

In the past one of the greatest difficulties that the live stock branch of the department was faced by the farmers who cared for the fairs was that their disposal were poor sellers, and that were any complaints had come in, they could always be traced back to the carelessness of the keepers.

In the discussion that followed Mr. E. J. H. Smith, of the University of Illinois, pointed out that many farmers who have scrub herds and begin to grade up too often overlook the fact that the inferior pure-bred bull will do more harm than good than a scrub. The purebred would be pure prepotent, and any defective characteristic would be passed on harder to get out of the herd. For this one reason alone he maintained, he would not advise a man to make an attempt to get as good a bull as possible.

with a corn binder. It was thought that the sunflowers would be better if they were cut and then the crop was harvested and bales were made. It was found that it contained forty-seven per cent. of moisture, which is more than contained in the average ensilage crop.

Cost of Protection
Sunflower ensilage can be produced on most farms for a cost not exceeding $3.50 per ton, which is usually cheaper than any other method crop can be grown. The high market value of the crop in one respect is an advantage in that when cut up the ensilage is more pulpy and packs better into the silo. Three hundred tons of ensilage were put in the 20x36

It was thought by some of the farmers present at the meeting that they would be well to take a trip to the north-western shore. The proposition is carrying out. Arrangements were made to make up an excursion party to which farmers and those interested is invited to join. To visit the farm at the time of the exhibition held in Calgary, some time ago.

WINNIPEG, Mar. 10.—The supreme court of Canada today dismissed the appeal made by two persons notified against the decision of the court of Manitoba which upheld the School Attendance act, according to information received here. This brings to a close a year long legal dispute between the principal department of education and several Menominee colonies. The effect of the decision is that the school attendance act is within the legislative jurisdiction of the province of Manitoba. The court also held that the Menominee assembly and also that the supreme court of Canada will not entertain appeals arising out of provincial decisions, but that the decision of the

A Form of Dyspepsia Usually Resulting from the Inability to Digest Starchy Food

A great many people are severely bothered by flat intestinal indigestion due to the fact that the food they eat does not move through the bowels as freely as it should. In many cases, the bowels are so sluggish that the food is actually "backed up" in the stomach, and the result is a general feeling of discomfort and uneasiness.

It is especially important that the stomach and bowels be kept in good condition when you take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as you will not get the full benefit from the medicine unless the bowels are kept in good condition. The power of the bowels to move the food through the system is a vital factor in the power of the stomach to digest the food properly. If the bowels are sluggish, the food is not properly digested, and the food products are not properly absorbed. The food products are then excreted out of the system through the bowels, and the result is a general feeling of discomfort and uneasiness.

It is a complaint of this character many

The demonstrators are flying at the pit shafts, the advertisements and posters which have been used in conflicts occurring between the Polish and Czech workers. A mass of 25,000 men is reported to have taken part in the strike. The strike was begun as a protest against the action of the local communist commission in replacing workmen with those of the local committee by bourgeois.
